

Editor's Comment:

I have gone through the manuscript and decided that the authors should effect some corrections and resubmit for re-evaluation.

1. They should restructure the Abstract into Introduction, Aims, Methods, Results and Conclusion
2. the content of tables should be described in text form to ensure they are clearly understood by the reader
3. Title of tables should be written above the tables and all internal lines deleted.
4. Some corrections of grammar have been made and tracked in the manuscript, these should be accepted.
5. Correction tracked in the the Discussion section should be effected
6. The referencing is not properly done; Authors should follow example given in the manuscript
7. The formula for arriving at the sample size should be stated

Note that these are major corrections that must be made before the manuscript can be considered for the final editorial decision.
