

Editor's Comment:

The manuscript is OK, not very special in itself but OK.

In the abstract of the revised version "retrobulbar steroids" and not "laterobulbar"

Anterior chamber flare and cells +2

Vitreous cells +2 (not vitreous tyndall)

It's a tyndall effect.

Also retrobulbar should be again corrected before figure 2 (the OCT image) and the machine name and specifications added.

The authors should add one or two recent references (2015 - 2019).
