

Editor's Comment:

The present document concerns the final evaluation of the manuscript titled "Hydrocarbon Reservoir Characterization of 'UDI' Field, Western Niger Delta"

I went through all steps from the initial version of the submitted MS to the last revised version, paying high attention to the reviewers' comments. I am happy to see such a manuscripts because, in my point of view, they put forward the relation between academia and industry, which is highly important. Author(s) put significant effort to this, which is highly appreciated. Therefore, in my opinion, the present manuscript is accepted for publication at this present form.
