

Editor's Comment:

Researchers has done a good job. The work they carried out is applied and useful to keep environment pollution free. They corrected almost all corrections suggested by the reviewers except some minor things which should be rectify as follows-

In revised manuscript following things were missing in Introduction, material and methods and Discussions sections

While citing in text, only First and second authors names should be given (only surname/family names) without their initials.

Wherever, there are more than two authors cite first author name then et al.,

Lastly while citing more than one citations after complete sentence/para cite these references chronologically with publication year (2010; 2013; 2015.....and so on).

I recommend, the manuscript should be published after these rectifications.
