

Editor's Comment:

The article is technically well-written and the reviewers have suggested only minor revisions. I suggest that the article be accepted. However, I reinforce the comment of one of the reviewers, who drew attention that the article was too long. Points 1.1 through 1.6 are unnecessary. They could be summarized in just one page. If it is still possible to request this adjustment from the authors, I recommend it. But if it is not possible, I keep my suggestion to accept the article.
