Compulsory REVISION comments	The research methodology was not clearly and sufficiently explained. For example, <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) why was Zuru town picked as the study area? 2) how were "high, middle and low ranked" residential categories defined? 3) what happened if a household disposed something that exceeded the size of the basket given? 4) was purely random sampling performed in the last stage (lines 113-115)? If not, what's the point of using Yamane's formula? A clear aim/objective of the research should be provided in the introduction section. The title of the paper must be changed. Every household generates waste! The current title looks nonsense. I cannot see how the three recommendations (in section 4.2) were drawn from the findings of the research. In fact, what the policy or practical implications of the research findings?
