Compulsory REVISION comments	1. The unit of DLC- means lymphocytes, monocytes and granulocytes in table-2 is given in $\times 10^3 / \mu\text{l}$ which is wrong and it should be in percent (%). However, in blood indices it is always better to calculate absolute lymphocyte, absolute monocyte and absolute granulocyte counts and that can be expressed as $\times 10^3 / \mu\text{l}$. 2. In table 3 instead of V. Streptococcus it should be Streptococcus only.
Minor REVISION comments	In text, there are several minor mistakes which are corrected and marked yellow.
Optional/General comments	It's a good paper worth publishing.
