

Editor's Comment:

This research need some corrections.

The introduction is badly written and poorly on reference, we find a long paragraph with 15 lines with one reference : Edible as well as non-edible parts implications for patients with memory loss [1]. Another with six lines with one reference: Psychotic behaviour is a neurological components of the plant have antipsychotic properties [3]. Another with five and seven lines with one reference, try to enrich you introduction by reference particularly recent one.

1. Report for walnut shell waste produced by walnut industries: Now, Kashmir's discarded walnut shells can be used to make batteries !
